All Praise to Him Who Dwells in Bliss

St. Saviour 8.6.8.6

Charles Wesley, 1741

Frederick G. Baker, 1876

1. All praise to Him Who dwells in bliss, Who made both day and night;
 2. Each thought and deed His pierc - ing eyes With strict - est search sur - vey;
 3. Whom Thou dost guard, O King of kings, No e - vil shall mol - est;
 4. Thy an - gels shall a - round their beds Their con - stant sta - tions keep;
 5. May we, with calm and sweet re - pose, And heaven - ly thoughts re - freshed,

Whose throne is dark - ness, in th'a - byss Of un - cre - a - ted light.
 The deep - est shades no more dis - guise Than the full blaze of day.
 Un - der the shad - ow of Thy wings, Shall they se - cure - ly rest.
 Thy faith and truth shall shield their heads, For Thou dost nev - er sleep.
 Our eye - lids with the morn's un - close, And bless the Ev - er - blessed.
