Now from the Altar of My Heart

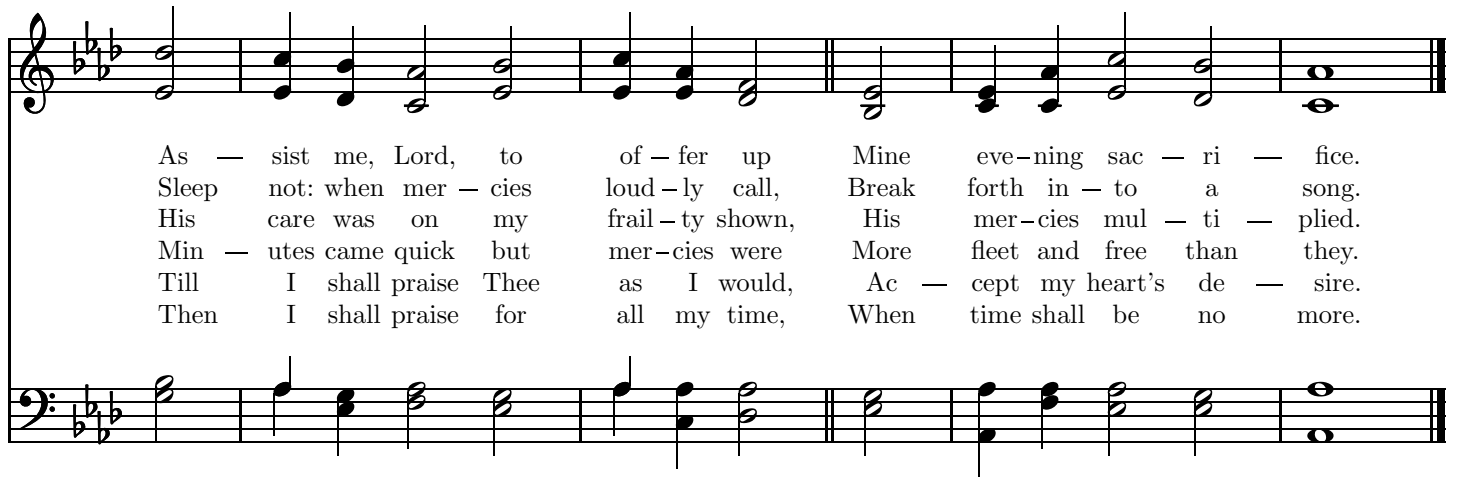

Evan 8.6.8.6

John Mason, 1683

William H. Havergal, 1846

1. Now from the al — tar of my heart Let in — cense flames a — rise;
 2. A — wake, my love! A — wake, my joy! A — wake, my heart and tongue!
 3. This day God was my Sun and Shield, My Keep — er and my Guide;
 4. Min — utes and mer — cies mul — ti — plied Have made up all this day;
 5. New time, new fa — vor, and new joys Do a new song re — quire;
 6. Lord of my time, Whose hand hath set New time u — pon my score,

As — sist me, Lord, to of — fer up Mine eve — ning sac — ri — fice.
 Sleep not: when mer — cies loud — ly call, Break forth in — to a song.
 His care was on my frail — ty shown, His mer — cies mul — ti — plied.
 Min — utes came quick but mer — cies were More fleet and free than they.
 Till I shall praise Thee as I would, Ac — cept my heart's de — sire.
 Then I shall praise for all my time, When time shall be no more.
